population of Nevada is 43,335, a decrease of 3,426 since 1890. While it is true that for many years silver mining was the principal industry of the State, and that legislation, which closed the mints to silver and reduced the price of the metal from $1.29 to 57 of 58 cents an ounce, drove many out of the mining business and out of the State, it is also a fact that an impetus has been given to the gold and copper mining in the last few years which tends to attract people to the

REAL VALUE WILL APPEAR FA BULOUS

Late explorations made in the Re no Star mine have developed much more mineral than was noped for b: the most sanguine among thost who believe, or have believed in the extensive mineral wealth of Washoe county. Those who have had an abiding faith n the mineral wealth of the county for decades have had their bellef or conviction respecting deposits in ledge form so fully eclipsed that they do not have very much to say about their judgment so often expres-

The mineral wealth of this mine is so much beyond anything expected or claimed that the rock sharps have less to say than any of the people in Reno about its fabulous value.

There appeared an article in Sunday morning's Journal about making some effort to ascertain through a drill process something about the hidden values there are in the county. It was stated in the article referred to that it had been ascertained that the Reno Star, or Wedekind mine is a part of a ledge system. That there may be no mistake made about the system as accertained, it is perhaps well to state that there are, no hills immediately back of the place where the Reno Star came to the surface, and because of that fact it was not at the point of discovery covered by decomposed matter. At no great distance from the point of discovery the ledge has been subject to deposits of disintegrated matter

from the hills above it, and is without any doubt covered in many places to a depth anywhere from fifty to two hundred feet. There are rich mineral deposits in other places known to exist that could be discovered and values ascertained by freens of a drill that would give returns of sufficient value to justify an expenditure of large sums to develop mines upon these ledges. There will be a class of men who will enter Washoe in the near future who will profit by exploring tits hills, while those who have been surrounded by their wealth for a life time will have very little profit from the wealth so plentiful at their doors. Will some enterprising citizen take the initiative in the drill project suggested by Mr. John L. Wedekind and ascertain the opinion of our citizens respecting its propable

A Subject That Needs Discussion.

Development of interstate commerce has had its effect upon taxation in the several states, which has resulted in systems in the states largely in opposition one to the other. Federal and State jurisdiction in commercial matters is such that a radical change in the system of taxation by the States has been a result, that is likely to make the rules adopted by some of the States top heavy in places to commercial in-

A desire to avoid taxation by corporations has had its effect upon taxation States till the rult o uniformity is almost abolished, which is likely to lead to difficulty in revenue returns. There will be an effort made through a conference of delegates appointed by the Governors of certain of the States to arrive at an understanding upon a subject that has in it more cause of trouble than all other questions connected with government. It is not expected that anything definite will be accomplished at the first meeting, as it will require more time for discussion and arrangement than is given to the delegates who may attend the convention. The real object of the meeting at this time is to secure attention to the subject, which will be ascussed in the future for the purpose of giving the matter under consideration at future meetings a more definite form than it has now.

The present meeting will be a beginning to the consideration of a subject that requires the best thought that can

The chief error connected with taxation at present is in the care that is given it. It is surprising that so lit. tle attention is given to the most delicate and the most important branch in business connected with government, State and National.

Taxation is a subject the economist has not exhausted and he may not be able to do so in the next hundred years. It is a most intricate subject to dispose of, which may be the chief reason for the usual loose yaws connected with revenue business.

Told by Pain

If you have pains you should look after them quickly. Pain shows something is wrong. The sharper the pain the more dan-ger there is in delay. There are thousands of women to-day who are bearing awful pain almost continually, rather than tell a physician about the shouting pains in their hysician about the shooting pains in their lower abdomen, about the agony of falling of the womb and the distress of leucorrhoea.

They let the months pass and their trouble becomes harder to cure and more distressing.

But modest women can secure exemption from the embarrassment of a private exami-nation. When pain tells them of danger they can cure themselves by the use of in the privacy of their homes. You can be cured without distressing publicity. With these facts before you there is no reason for

ABOUT THE RENO STAR.

An Interview Regarding the Big Bonanza Near This City.

Yesterday morning notice of injunction was served upon C. B. Bell and his associates and work stopped, for a time at least, upon one of the most phenomenal strikes ever made in the

A mining man gives the Journal this discription of the ore body in the Bell workings:

"I was let down in the bucket and carefully examined the formation. For a distance of one hundred feet the ground was soft and yellow. Suddenly a change occurred. The color was not very different, but, instead of the rock being loose, it was cemented together with silver, black horn silver. It was like as though molten metal had been poured over gravel and had percolated down and solidified.

Bell had sunk about twelve feet in this solid ore and in that distance had taken out about fifty tons of ore. I believe it will run away up in the hundreds. What impressed me most was the apparently inexhaustible quantity. For this twelve feet everything around the shaft and in the bottom is ore."

"I have heard; I don't know how true it is, that some of the wiseacres of Washoe county laughed at Mr. Wedekind and ridicuted him as a crank for working upon the location, but the point at which Mr. Wedekind placed his notice of location shows that he exercised sound judgment in selecting it as a point to locate."

The Reno Star mine is a beehive of industry. Sixteen men are employed and they are now extracting a carload of rich ore every day. Teams are hauling the bonanza rock to town and there are four carloads in the ore house.

The mine is being worked night and day. The ore is no longer brought out the incline. A shaft was begun several days ago near the line of Bell's ground and at a depth of thirty-five feet ore was encountered. Sinking is proceeding rapidly. The evident reason for sinking the shaft was to prove that the Bell strike is nothing else than the lateral extension of the Wedekind

PASSING OF AN... OLD LANDMARK.

The old pavilion looks outwardly just as it has for the past twenty-two years, barring a somewhat dingter appearance than when the paint was of a discernible color. Within it is being rapidly metamorphosed. Workmen are ripping up flooring and playing havoc generally. In a few days there will be a pile of rubbish instead of the big structure that stood at the meeting place of Reno's two worlds.

feeling of regret that watch the work of demolition. The old pavilion was the scene of many a sathering of the beauty and the chivairy of the town. Its wails have echoed to the waltz' voluptuous strain. The voice of oratory has held multitudes pavilion that the people of Nevada weleign battle fields. All that is past. By the middle of August the pavillon will adorn the State fair grounds.

Delightfully Entertained.

A party of fifty ladies were most delightfully entertained by Mrs. Sol Levy yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Levy was fortunate in securing the services of a Colossal Congress of Colored Celebrities who are sojourning in Reno. Many of the Black Pattis would have caused Billy Emercon to blush with

Thomas Wren will have several communications in the Journal in the next few days relative to the Reno Star mine which is now showing such fabulous wealth and attracting so much attention. Mr. Wren is thoroughly conversant with the the property and its forms tions. He says: "I have excelle mfwyp 7E890$90$.

"I have excellent authority for saying that the rock on the surface of the mine for 250 or 300 feet in width assays generally not less than one dollar and running to five dollars a ton, ex- pany. cept where the very rick rock comes to or near the surface, where assay returns up into the thousands may be obtained. "There is enough ore 'in sight,' as the miners term it, to assure Mr. Wedekind of a very handsome fortune, with very great possibilities beyond that In company with others I have found flos, some of which was high grade. from the extreme southern part to the extreme northern part of the claim, making it reasonably certain the mine, instead of being merely a chimney of ore, such as sometimes occurs in a lode or mineral-bearing zone of rock, extending certainly for 1500 feet. A correspondent of the Dayton Times says ore to the value of two million dollars is exposed in the mines of Tonspake and a minimum and a second states

INDIAN TRAINING

How the Young Modecs are Brought Up in the Way They Should Go.

"To those who pooh-pooh at educating the Indian, and say our government money is wasted, my answer is, 'Go and see for yourself.' "

Thus spoke one of the teachers in the Reno public schools who visited the training school during the session of the State institute.

"These wards of our nation are proverbially taciturn and stolid, but under the influence of firm but kindly educational influences these racial qualities are to a certain extent eliminated and the dusky child acquires to a great extent the traits of his pale faced brother. Yet he still retains the calm demeanor and quiet dignity that are attributed to the 'descendants of the lost tribe of Israel.

"We teachers first visited the eighth grade class where was under discussion the momentous question of how, when and where a picnic was to be held. As though an affair of mighty consequence was being decided, the pupils argued pro and con. When the question arose as to whether it should be a class or school picnic, the latter was decided upon, because, as one boy put it, 'there are no girls in our class.'

"The class sang for the edification of the visitors and, as the latter were about to depart, one boy, whose politeness did not permit him to see that the entertainment had been entirely on the part of the class, arose and gravely put the motion, 'that we thank the visitors for entertaining us.' There was not a dissenting vote.

"The kindergarten department interested us greatly. The little tots were engaged in 'play work' just as other children in other kindergartens are wont to be. They displayed the utmost intelligence and interest in their pleasant tasks. The walls of this deartment were adorned with miraculous horces, dogs, pappooses and divers other things, named and unnamed, modeled in clay by the children.

"The industrial department is a very attractive place indeed. The boys and girls are there taught many useful arts. The facetious superintendent of the shoe shop greeted us with, 'Here is where Indians' 'soles' are made."

"These are only a few of the many impressions received and incidents noted during our visit. We were and are of one accord in believeing that the education of the Indian is one of the white man's burdens and he should not lay it down.

The educated Indian may occasionally revert to his type and fail to become the good and useful citizen that the nation plans he should be. Ingratitude may be a trait too deeply enrooted in the Indian to be entirely eradicated. But the burden still remains ours and its weight should not be complained of.

Many of the boys remained up last night to welcome the great day with fitting disturbances.

This evening at 7:30 there will be a grand illuminated bicycle parade. It is not limited to club members. Any riders may enter and the best decorated wheels will win the prizes.

The parade will form at the corner of Second and Sierra streets at 7 p. m. At 8 it will disband in front of the club room and the prizes will be awarded.

Captain Cox, S. J. Hodgkinson and Jay Clemons are the committee in charge of this affair.

After the prizes are awarded a dance will be given in the club gymnasium. By looking backward five years the people of Reno can note the great progress made by the Wheelmen. The organization has grown to a membership rapidly approaching three hundred.

It is the recognized champion of the coast in relay riding.

ARTICLE.

The Journal perused the Student Record last evening with a great deal of interest. The last column of page 15 was especially well written. "There are persons who through another organ, have several times endeavored "Say Harry, htey are talking about to criticize us." "It would be well for incorporating Reno, and making it a the other paperetc" "evident interiority," "We believe them careful of painting the President's cottage," and sim-

The Journal is proud of the boys for daring to publicly charge Brother Bragg with these helnous crimes. The wonder is, though, that the faculty permits such plain language, but of course, that is explained by the fact that the paper is published by the Independent Association and is beyond the jurisdiction of the faculty to a certain degree. Some imbecile suggested that "us" meant "US" who are not the students, but naturally we laughed our imbecile friend to scorn.

JOURNAL'S ROCK SHARP

Queries of Prospectors Answered With Mathematical Exactitude.

J. Y. H.-Virginia City is an ex- of Crocerlestremely interesting place and u, as you say, you have never been there you should take care to see it.

As you have doubtless heard, it was formerly one of the greatest mining camps in the world. In consequence everything there is modeled after a mine.

The magnificent edifices which line Virginia's wide and well-paved streets were evidently constructed by contractors familiar with the details of underground work. The rooms bear a striking resemblance to stopes and the system of inclines underground is repeated above. Mose of the houses are peculiarly timbered, square sets, stulls and trisets being used impartially.

Formerly most of the residences were entered by means of skips but now the visitor to Virginia who spends a night in one of the stope-like rooms provides for the skip himself next morning.

Virginia is indeed a peculiar place, a place full of great mines and wonaerful mining machinery. Contrary to the oninion of many all this machinery is in use. The people eat off concentrating tables, and giant fly-wheels, pulleys, eccentrics, etc, revolve furiously within the craniums of individuals who imagine that Virginia has a chance to beat Reno in the race for supremacy.

R. J. Boca.-No shipment of ore has as yet been made from the rich Steamboat mines. The Steamboat whistle, RING UP BLACK, 385; however, is kept tooting as vigorously as ever.
